St. Joseph's is a Catholic Primary School providing a Catholic education based upon the values of the Gospel. Catholic values are promoted through co-operation with family, parish and local community to enable each child to develop their full potential.

Parents play the most important role in teaching and modelling good behaviour. It is expected that parents will have taught their children to respect the feelings and property of others. In this school, we reinforce the attitudes and discipline which begins at home and acknowledge that everyone within our school community has a role to play in order to create a positive learning environment and promote good manners and discipline. Good relationships between staff and children, setting high expectations and having agreed strategies for encouraging good behaviour, all have a bearing on the way children behave. An organised, attractive and welcoming classroom environment gives clear messages to the children about the extent to which they and their efforts are valued.

Staff and Governors of St. Joseph's believe that positive behaviour is an essential condition for effective learning and teaching. We also believe that pupils and staff have the right to learn and teach in an environment which is safe, friendly, peaceful and fair. The school community has defined a very clear set of non-negotiable standards of personal behaviour, which are based on respect for each individual in our community and their individual needs. Our community places self-discipline and a real sense of justice at the core in our determination to provide opportunities where each individual can flourish and develop in safety. Positive behaviour must be carefully developed and supported. Appropriate high self-esteem promotes good behaviour, effective learning and positive relationships. Put simply, we believe pupils learn best when they feel safe and happy in school.

The best results in terms of promoting positive behaviour arise from emphasising potential, rewarding success and giving praise for effort and achievement. We also know it is important to strike a balance between recognising positive behaviour and having appropriate consequences which are seen by all to be fair and just, and applied consistently when standards are not maintained. Through the example which adults who care for them in school and through well-developed planned and stimulating learning opportunities, we believe that children can accept learning challenges and develop self-discipline. It is the responsibility of parents and carers to work with the school in helping to foster positive attitudes and behaviour.

Aims of our Positive Behaviour Policy

- Help, working alongside parents, to encourage our children to develop socially, academically, orally and spiritually in preparation for a positive role in society.
- Ensure that everyone is clear about their role when managing a pupil's behaviour.
- Encourage a calm, purposeful and happy atmosphere within school.
- Help our children develop into caring and thoughtful individuals who respect and value the feelings, opinions, beliefs, property and differences of others.

- Encourage increasing independence and self-discipline so that each child learns to accept responsibility for their own behaviour and makes good choices.
- Help our children develop appropriate self-esteem.
- Encourage our pupils to co-operate with one another and with the adults in school.
- To develop skills necessary to resolve conflict and differences of opinion with sensitivity.
- A consistent approach to behaviour throughout the school with parental cooperation and involvement.
- Help create a positive, stimulating learning environment where positive attitudes and behaviour are encouraged and rewarded.
- Make the children aware of unacceptable behaviour.
- Allow all children equal opportunities to learn.
- Allow all adults in school equal opportunities to fulfill their role.
- Reward and encourage positive behaviour.
- Use sanctions where appropriate in accordance with this policy.

Encouraging Positive Behaviour

We support positive behaviour and a positive environment through;

- A consistent approach by the whole school community.
- Encouraging our children to see themselves as part of a whole school community and recognising their responsibility within this.
- Providing a clear and positive learning experiences fairly and consistently.
- Offering a broad and balanced curriculum that is well planned, prepared and stimulating.
- Appreciating and following the agreed Code of Conduct
- Monitoring pupil attendance and taking swift action where necessary.
- Constructive whole school planning for PSHE.
- Developing the voice of the child, through for example the Junior Leadership Team, Faith Ambassadors and the Eco Council.
- Developing the skills of co-operation and discussion.
- Encouraging everyone to take pride in the school environment.
- Having a positive and consistent approach to playtimes and lunchtimes.
- Creating a stimulating classroom environment.
- Use of rewards, incentives and responsibilities as motivational tools.
- Pupil involvement in events e.g. Open morning, greeting at door and taking assembly.
- Parental involvement– volunteers, FOSJS events and school events
- Community links

Classroom Management and Curricular Provision

- The maintenance of positive behaviour within the school is the responsibility of all the staff. Individual staff have particular responsibilities e.g. within their own classroom or when on duty supervising corridors, cloakrooms and play areas.
- Staff endeavour to model desirable behaviour and attitudes and avoid negative cycles of behaviour.
- Every opportunity is taken to support self-discipline, whereby children are personally involved and accept responsibility for their own actions and behaviours.
- Teaching methods, lesson content and other curriculum linked activities encourage active participation and support the school aims to develop the skills, knowledge and understanding which will enable the children to work and play in co-operation with others.
- Pupils have age appropriate responsibilities assigned to them to create a collaborative ethos and promote well-being and shared stewardship of the school.
- Praise is used to encourage good behaviour as well as good work and constructive criticism is a private matter between teacher/assistant and child where possible.
- Classroom assistant/teachers may (under guidance) discretely relay specific guidance on the management of a particular pupil to other key personnel in school to support that pupil's needs.
- All staff and pupils are familiar with our school aims and our Code of Conduct.

For a safe and happy school, we are expected to:

Arrive at school on time.
 Take pride in our school building.
 Wear our school uniform with pride.
 Look after our belongings.
 Be truthful, well-mannered and kind.
 Act responsibly and set a good example for others.
 Take responsibility for our actions in school, on trips and online.
 Keep our school litter free.
 Exercise self-control.

The use of sanctions is characterised by common features:

- We make clear the reason for the sanction, referring to our desired behaviours.
- How behaviour needs to change.
- We avoid group sanctions and belittling children.
- We make a clear distinction between the behaviour and the individual by focusing on the behaviour that is appropriate / inappropriate and not the child.

In line with our Christian values the school takes a restorative justice approach to resolving behavioural issues. This is based on three key features:

Respect: everyone listening to each other.

Responsibility: acknowledging your actions.

Repair: Identifying solutions that repair the harm and ensure behaviours are not repeated.

Level 4 Behaviours	Actions	Negative consequences – Level 4

The Headteacher may override these steps and intervene at an earlier opportunity depending on the severity and complexity of the incident.

Pupils with specific behaviour difficulties

Children who have specific behaviour difficulties will be supported with an Individual Behaviour Plan (IBP). The Assistant Head (Senco) will support this process. IBPs will be accessible to all staff.

If disruptive behaviour continues support / guidance is sought from outside agencies.

Reasonable Force / restraint

We follow the Department of Education Guidance ‘Use of Reasonable Force 2015’ which defines ‘reasonable force’ as using no more force than needed. Physical restraint is not permitted unless a child is posing a serious threat to themselves, others or property. Only minimum force should be applied and restraint should be relaxed as soon as possible and should only be used as a last resort.

A number of staff are trained in ‘Steps’ - De-escalation Programme and one of these members of staff may be called upon if it is felt that a child may need to be restrained if they are posing a health and safety risk to themselves and others.

All incidents where reasonable force / restraint is used are recorded in the Reasonable Force Book, which is kept in the AH office.

Definitions of bullying and how it differs from relational conflict

At St. Joseph’s we have adopted the definition of bullying provided by the Anti-Bullying Alliance:

“Bullying is the repetitive, intentional hurting of one person or group by another person or group, where the relationship involves an imbalance of power. It can happen face to face or online.”

Bullying can take many forms (verbal, physical, indirect and online). It is often motivated by prejudice against particular groups (for example on grounds of race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, special educational needs, or disabilities, or because a child is adopted, in care or has caring responsibilities). Bullying can be motivated by actual differences between children, or perceived differences.

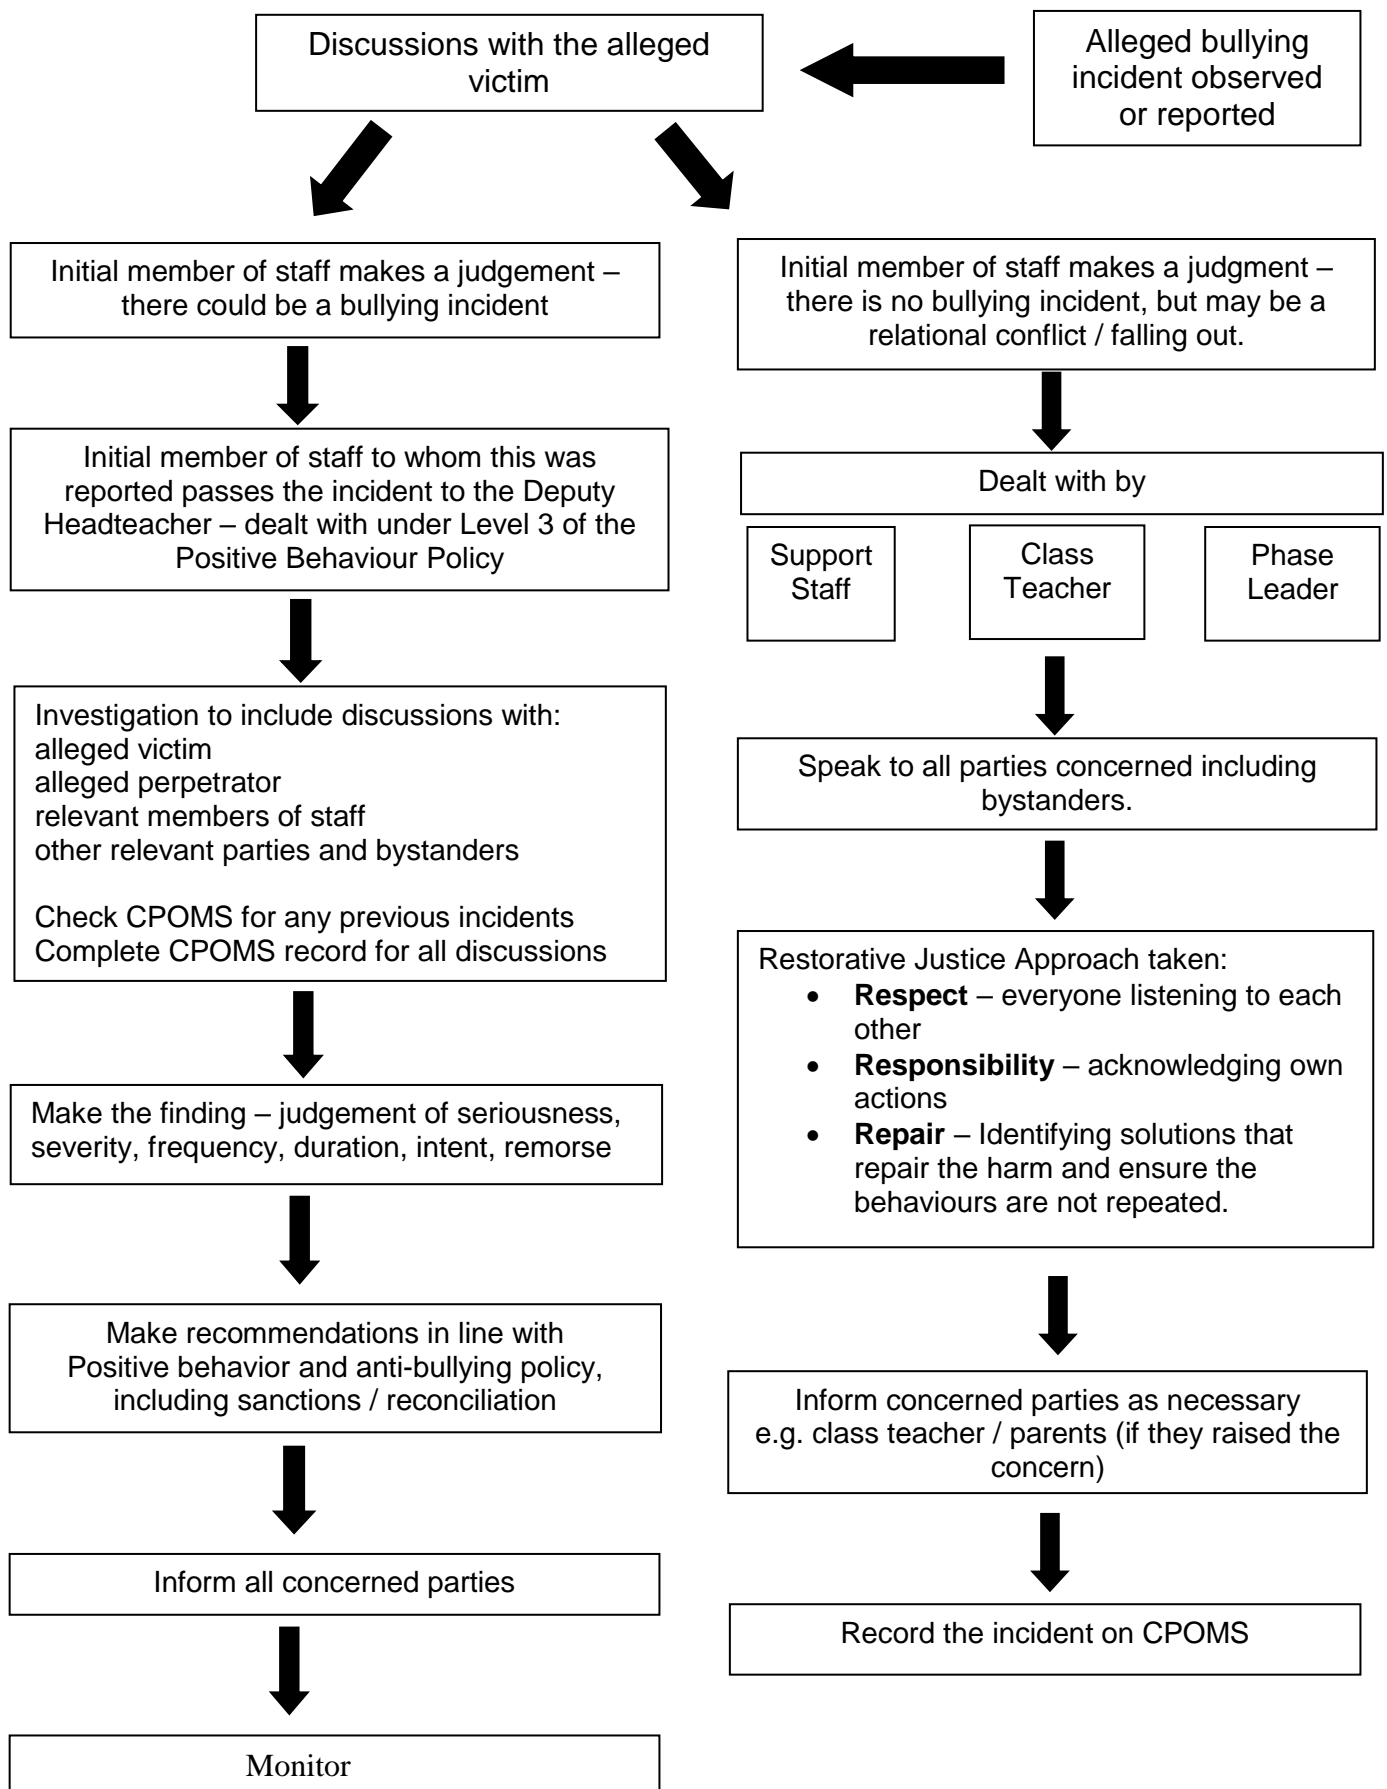

However, we also recognise that incidents may occur between pupils, which may not be deemed as ‘bullying’ but still require support or intervention from trusted adults. These incidents may be referred to as ‘relational conflicts’ or falling out. Relational conflict differs to bullying in the fact that it is usually between individuals or groups who are relatively similar in power and status (a power balance), and the behaviours or incidents occur occasionally (not repetitive) or occur by accident (not intentional). Usually, following a relational conflict incident, pupils show remorse and there is a general willingness to make things right or to resolve the conflict.

Not all relational conflict or falling out leads to bullying, but our school is aware occasionally some can, and we are mindful that unresolved bad feelings or relationship problems left unaddressed can be the start of a pattern of behaviour in which the intention becomes to cause harm or distress.

Although bullying and relational conflicts can take place between individuals, we recognise that it often takes place in front of others (either physically or virtually), pupils who witness these incidents/behaviours are often referred to as ‘bystanders’.

Regardless of whether an incident or situation is deemed as ‘relational conflict’ or ‘bullying’, our school will address the situation and support the pupils to resolve any negative feelings. Our school will monitor children following a relational conflict to ensure that the situation has been resolved and does not escalate to bullying. Our school will challenge, address, and monitor any incidents of bullying, to ensure that it does not continue and that all pupils feel supported (this will include the target, the alleged perpetrator, any bystanders, and the wider school community).

Bullying Allegation Flowchart

How is bullying prevented?

- We promote a supportive and inclusive environment which fosters mutual respect, consideration and care for others.
- Consider all opportunities for addressing bullying in all forms throughout the curriculum and supported with a range of approaches such as through displays, assemblies, peer support, pupil leadership groups.
- Through our PSHE curriculum we focus on friendships, building strong relationships and conflict resolution, as well as taking part in local and national events.
- Opportunities for circle time to discuss and resolve issues arising among peers.
- We work with staff and outside agencies (as necessary) to implement our positive behaviour policy, identify all forms of bullying and follow reporting and recording procedures.
- Actively provide opportunities to develop pupil's social and emotional skills, including their resilience.
- Provide a range of approaches for pupils, staff and parents/carers to report concerns and access support.
